

FIRST ANNOUNCEMENT

The Department of Livestock Products Technology (Meat Science), Madras Veterinary College, Chennai-7 is organising the second convention of the Association of Meat Scientists and Technologists (AMST) and National Seminar on "Food: Safety, Health and Environment" on 3rd and 4th December, 2015.

INVITATION FOR PAPERS

Academics from universities, scientists, experts from industry and postgraduate research scholars are invited to submit research papers / abstracts to be presented in the National Seminar on the themes detailed below.

The full length papers / abstracts are to be submitted to the Organising Secretary on or before 18th November 2015 to be included in the compendium to be brought out on the occasion. Full length papers limited to ten pages and abstracts limited to 300 words typed in 12 font size (Arial, MS word) in 1.5 line spacing may be sent via email as an attachment by 18.11.2015. These should contain the objectives of the study, brief methodology, results and conclusion. Selected papers will be considered for oral presentation and the remaining will be allotted for poster presentation. Posters should be 850 mm (breadth) x 1200 mm (length).

THEME OF THE SEMINAR

Theme of the seminar is drawn from the need to have a holistic view of the emerging trends in the food industry from the standpoint of safety, and its impact on health and environment. The focus of the seminar will be to deliberate and exchange ideas, address issues faced by the industry in these facets and possibly evolve suitable strategies to ameliorate them. The seminar will be conveniently classified into the following thematic areas:

- ❖ Trends in food production
- ❖ Food quality and safety
- ❖ Food processing and preservation
- ❖ Food, nutrition and health
- ❖ Food bio-technology
- ❖ Food and environment
