

Disclaimer

Organic Farming is an emerging area and information on standardised package of practices are limited. The techno economic parameters adopted in the model scheme(s) are based on the information available and discussions with research institutions, progressive farmers, certification agencies and commodity boards. These techno economic parameters, including cost, economics, repayment schedule are only indicative. While formulating or submitting projects for financing, entrepreneurs should formulate/revise their project according to the specific situations prevailing in the project area.